

Let's walk along the path by the pond

Vallée de la Vézère – massif des Monédières – Meyrignac-l'Église

Etang de Meyrignac-l'Eglise (CC VEM)

In an exceptional setting, this riverside trail with topical panels offers a walk that is accessible to all.

The pond of Mérygnac l'Eglise and its surroundings is waiting to share its secrets with you. Four panels on history, natural environments, fauna and flora add to the interest of this discovery trail. A wooden duckboard crosses the tail-end of the pond and reveals the animal and plant species that inhabit this precious wetland.

To explore with your family.

1. From the departure sign, cross the D26 to reach the edge of the pond. Follow the water's edge to Panel N°1 which tells the story of this body of water. Walk along the fence of the Domaine des Monédières. Continue beneath the trees.
2. When you reach a meadow, walk along the right-hand edge. At the exit, continue to the right on a path that borders a hectare of beautiful land. Cross another field, and then turn right onto a duckboard that crosses the precious wetland area at the tail end of the lake (Panel N°2).
3. At the end of the duckboard, continue to the right. Ancient chestnut trees stand guard over the path (Panel N°3). Go along the edge of a field (Panel N°4) and continue beneath the trees.
4. At the end of the trail, go around the private property on the right and find the edge of the lake again, then follow the fence until you reach the road. On the D26, follow the dyke to find the car park.

On your path...

The story of a village and its pond (A)

The construction of this pond dates back to the Middle Ages. We are speaking here of a pond based on title, i.e. a pond present before the French revolution with specific regulations... (see panel N°1).

Attribution : CC VEM

Precious wetlands (B)

A wetland is a space that is blocked up or flooded, and is characterised by the presence of hydrophilic species, which love water... (see Panel N°2).

Attribution : CC VEM

A multifunctional tree (C)

As they age, chestnut trees offer micro-habitats such as cavities, loose bark, cracks, and even dead branches in the crown (foliage)... (see Panel N°3).

Attribution : CC VEM

A flying mouse (D)

Bats are mammals that fly with their hands, hence their scientific name Chiroptera, from the Greek chiro: hand and ptera: Wing. (see Panel N°4).
